

Cichlid Parents

Cichlids are one of the few fish that care for their young. The substrate-spawning species lay eggs on the ground or another solid surface, then guard the eggs.